Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

2011 Recipient
Gov. Robert F. McDonnell

The Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters is Virginia Commonwealth University's highest form of recognition. Presented by the President at Commencement, it recognizes those individuals who have made outstanding contributions to society through scholarship, public service, humanitarianism, science and art.

Gov. Robert F. McDonnell
Commencement Speaker
Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Gov. Robert F. McDonnell was sworn in as the 71st governor of the commonwealth of Virginia on Jan. 16, 2010. He received nearly 59 percent of the vote and the most votes of any candidate for governor in Virginia history. As Virginia's chief executive, Gov. McDonnell inherited an unprecedented $4.2 billion budget deficit. He defeated a proposed $2 billion increase in the state income tax, kept existing car tax relief in place and brought Democrats and Republicans together to close the shortfall through spending reductions, and without a single tax increase. At the same time, McDonnell was successful in seeing 80 percent of his legislative proposals passed by Virginia's General Assembly, which consists of a Republican House and Democratic Senate. Included in the governor's proposals were major education reforms to bring more charter schools to the commonwealth and expand virtual learning programs, as well as a package of dramatic new incentives for job-creating businesses to encourage economic development and job creation in the state. Gov. McDonnell has focused extensive time on job creation, and since February, 71,500 new jobs have been added in Virginia, the third highest amount nationally.

Gov. McDonnell has dedicated his life to public service. He served 21 years in the U.S. Army, both active duty and reserve, retiring as a lieutenant colonel in 1997. Upon graduating from law school in 1989 he served as a Virginia Beach prosecutor. McDonnell was elected to the Virginia House of Delegates in 1991 and served 14 years representing Virginia Beach. He was elected as the 44th attorney general of Virginia in 2005. As attorney general, he kept all seven of his campaign promises and successfully passed 92 of his 105 legislative proposals, with strong bipartisan support.

Gov. McDonnell was raised in Fairfax County, Va. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame (B.B.A.), Boston University (M.S.B.A.) and Regent University (J.D. and M.A.). He and his wife, Maureen, have been married for 34 years. They have five children, ages 19-30. Their oldest daughter, Jeanine, served in the U.S. Army, including a tour of duty in Baghdad in 2005-06.

Edward A. Wayne Medal

John Sherman Jr.

The Edward A. Wayne Medal was established in 1971 to honor individuals who have made outstanding contributions or provided exemplary services to Virginia Commonwealth University. Presented by the President at Commencement, the medal is named in honor of Edward A. Wayne, who was chair of the commission that led to the establishment of Virginia Commonwealth University in 1968 by the Virginia General Assembly. Mr. Wayne served as the university's first vice rector.

John Sherman Jr.
Edward A. Wayne Medal

John Sherman Jr. enjoyed a 35-year career in the financial industry, capped by service as vice chairman and president and CEO of Scott and Stringfellow Inc., a brokerage and investment banking firm in Richmond, Va., which enjoyed revenues of $260 million in 2005. In 1998, he led the merger with BB&T Corp. He retired in 2006.

A graduate of Princeton University and the Darden School of Business at the University of Virginia, Mr. Sherman earned a reputation in the financial field for people-focused leadership. He built a corporate culture centered on unwavering commitment to employees and customers. Mr. Sherman championed numerous change initiatives driven through bottom-up leadership and provided executive-level support to facilitate consensus building and marshal necessary people and capital resources.

Mr. Sherman is a founding trustee for the School of Engineering at Virginia Commonwealth University and has served as president of the School of Engineering Foundation. He also is a former member of the VCU Board of Visitors. In 2003, the engineering school honored him with the Dean's Distinguished Service Award.

Throughout his career, Mr. Sherman has sat on many boards of publicly traded companies and nonprofit organizations, including Trigon, Anthem, Scott and Stringfellow, Greater Richmond Chamber of Commerce, the United Way campaign and The Management Roundtable. He has earned numerous awards for his service, including the 2005 Verizon LMR Arête Award for Community Service and the inaugural John Sherman Jr. Scott and Stringfellow Award in 2003, which recognizes associates who exemplify leadership integrity and community service.

Currently, Mr. Sherman lends his talents as a board member to the VCU Health System, Albemarle Corp., the Miller Center of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia and the Virginia Capitol Foundation. He also serves as chairman of The Community Foundation serving Richmond and Central Virginia, and as a vestry member at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Mr. Sherman is a veteran of the U.S. Navy, having served in the Vietnam War as communication officer on a destroyer headquartered in Yokosuka, Japan.

Presidential Medallion

2011 Recipient
John M. Bennett

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the President at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

John M. Bennett

Until his retirement in April 2011, John M. Bennett served as Virginia Commonwealth University's senior vice president for finance and administration, a post he held for five years. In that role, he was responsible for budget and finance, facilities management, police and security, emergency preparedness, human resources, real estate, dining, parking, transportation, and support to VCU's foundations. He shared responsibility for information technology with VCU's provost.

During his tenure, Mr. Bennett helped VCU navigate through the most challenging fiscal environment in a generation and the focusing of resources on preserving and strengthening VCU's core academic programs. He also oversaw planning, design or construction of $825 million in new and renovated or improved facilities — including 11 sustainable buildings — upgrading of VCU's information technology infrastructure and security, and the buttressing of VCU's capacity to plan for and respond to emergencies. In addition, he led the effort to negotiate a management agreement with the commonwealth of Virginia, which granted VCU the maximum operational autonomy permitted under state law, a standing previously granted only to the University of Virginia, Virginia Tech and the College of William and Mary.

Prior to coming to VCU, Mr. Bennett served as the commonwealth of Virginia's secretary of finance under Gov. Mark Warner. In that position, he functioned as the commonwealth's chief financial and chief budget officer, as well as the principal financial adviser to the governor. During his tenure and following a yearlong evaluation of state governments, Virginia was named the Best Managed State in the nation by the Pew Center on the States.

Mr. Bennett has received numerous honors and recognition during his career, including two national awards. In 2004, the National Governors Association presented him with its annual Award for Distinguished Service. In 2006, Mr. Bennett received an award for Distinguished Leadership for State Government from the American Association of Governmental Accountants.

Mr. Bennett received his undergraduate education at the College of William and Mary and his graduate education at Virginia Tech. He is married to Joan Putney, an attorney, and has two children, a daughter who is a recent graduate of the University of Mary Washington and a son who has just finished his third year at the University of Virginia.

Judith B. Collins R.N., M.S.,
WHNP-C, FAAN

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the President at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

Judith B. Collins, R.N.,
M.S., WHNP-C, FAAN
Presidential Medallion

Following 30 years of service to the university, Judith B. Collins retired in 2000 as associate professor emeritus for the Virginia Commonwealth University schools of Nursing and Medicine.

Her career at the university began in 1967 when she became a nurse in the segregated St. Philip Hospital after serving on the hospital ship Hope in Nicaragua. In the years that followed, she held joint appointments as the hospital divisional director of obstetrics and gynecology and as a faculty member in the nursing school, helped initiate and co-directed the OB-GYN nurse practitioner program, and served as director of the OB-GYN, family and pediatric nurse practitioner programs at the certificate and master's levels.

Grant writing sparked Ms. Collins' interest in health policy and, in 1982, she spent a year as a Robert Wood Johnson Health Policy Fellow in Washington, D.C., where she worked in the office of Rep. Richard A. Gephardt. Following the fellowship, Ms. Collins initiated the VCU Health Policy Office to focus on governmental relations that influence health policy. She served as the inaugural director of the office from 1983-93 after which she became the founding director of the VCU Women's Health Center at Stony Point, a position she held until 2000. In honor of her service, the School of Nursing established the Judith Buxton Collins Distinguished Professorship in 2003.

Ms. Collins' role as an educator and adviser extends well beyond the university. She is a nationally known speaker, consultant and writer in the areas of women's health care, health policy and nurse practitioner education, practice and regulation. In addition she has served in numerous leadership positions for community and professional organizations. She was the first chair of the National Alliance of Nurse Practitioners, national vice president of the Nurses' Association of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and vice president of the National Certification Corporation for Obstetric, Gynecologic and Neonatal Nurses. In retirement, she continues to serve on many university, community and professional boards, including the VCU Institute for Women's Health, the MCV Foundation and as chair of the Virginia Council on the Status of Women, a position appointed by then-Gov. Timothy M. Kaine.

Ms. Collins earned her B.S.N. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, M.S. in Maternal-Child Health from Boston University and women's health nurse practitioner certificate from VCU. She and her husband, Joseph Teefey, enjoy traveling and spending time with their children and six grandchildren.

Donald C.J. Gehring, J.D.

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the President at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

Donald C.J. Gehring, J.D.
Presidential Medallion

Joining Virginia Commonwealth University in 1990 as assistant to the president for government and community relations, Donald C.J. Gehring became vice president for government relations and health policy in 1995, a position he held until his retirement in 2010.

A graduate of the University of Notre Dame Law School, Mr. Gehring began his career in private practice before joining the Virginia Office of the Attorney General, where he served with distinction as deputy attorney general in the criminal law enforcement division. He then served under Govs. Gerald Baliles and L. Douglas Wilder as deputy secretary of public safety, where he helped facilitate the creation of the Department of Youth Services, the forerunner of the Department of Juvenile Justice.

While serving both the university and the VCU Health System, Mr. Gehring's vast experience working with local, state and national government leaders proved invaluable during his tenure. He significantly impacted the financial health and strength of VCU and the VCU Health System through his pivotal role in the creation of the VCU Health System Authority and his tireless work to secure Medicaid funding for indigent health care needs.

Mr. Gehring devoted countless hours to promoting positive relations between VCU and local residents, meeting with neighborhood associations to facilitate productive dialogue and build strong relationships. An influential advocate, he proved instrumental in the creation of the Virginia BioTechnology Research Park Authority and worked with legislators, staff and health care organizations on numerous other legislative priorities. Mr. Gehring was also a strong advocate for cancer research and medical education funding on the federal and state levels and helped lead efforts to prepare VCU for health care reform.

On Feb. 26, 2011, to honor Mr. Gehring for his distinguished service to VCU and the commonwealth, the Virginia House of Delegates passed House Resolution No. 89 as an expression of their admiration and respect for his innovative ideas, commitment to serving others and exemplary contributions in all his endeavors.

Purusottam Jena, Ph.D.

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the President at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

Purusottam Jena, Ph.D.
Presidential Medallion

An educator and prolific researcher, Dr. Purusottam (Puru) Jena, distinguished professor in the Department of Physics at Virginia Commonwealth University, has received numerous accolades for his dedication to teaching future generations of physicists.

In 1991, he earned the University Award of Excellence, VCU's highest academic honor. Ten years later, Dr. Jena received the Outstanding Faculty Award from the State Council of Higher Education of Virginia, the highest honor given by the state of Virginia. Then, in July 2007, Dr. Jena became one of nine tenured, research-active scientists and engineers selected nationwide as a 2007-08 Jefferson Science Fellow at the U.S. Department of State in Washington, D.C., where he engaged his passion for science and technology with foreign policy. During the fellowship, he helped plan the 2008 Washington International Renewable Energy Conference, which brought together the world's leaders in the field of renewable energy from governments, international organizations, nongovernmental organizations and the private sector. He recently served on the U.S.-Russia Bilateral Presidential Commission on (Nano) Energy.

Dr. Jena served as chair of the VCU Department of Physics from 1989 to 1991 and is the founding director of the Consortium for Nanostructured Materials, where he catalyzed collaboration among the 34 member institutions. Additionally, Dr. Jena served a one-year term as the program director for the Division of Materials Research at the National Science Foundation. He also contributed to the development of science as a member of international panels as well as national panels at the National Science Foundation and the Department of Energy and an organizer of more than 40 international conferences.

Having served as principal investigator on projects totaling more than $10 million in grant funding, Dr. Jena's research focuses on understanding properties of novel materials at the nanoscale using theoretical techniques. His current research involves three major areas: structure and properties of nanoclusters and cluster assembled materials, spintronics, and renewable energy with particular emphasis on hydrogen storage. Dr. Jena is the author of nearly 430 papers and has served as editor of 12 conference proceedings. He has given more than 350 invited talks in international conferences and academic institutions in nearly 30 countries.

Dr. Jena earned his doctoral degree in physics from the University of California at Riverside and completed his previous training at Utkal University in India. He is a fellow of the American Physical Society.

Peter L. Wyeth

The Presidential Medallion was established in 1984 by the Virginia Commonwealth University Board of Visitors to honor the outstanding contributions of members of the university community. Presented by the President at Commencement, the award recognizes these individuals for extraordinary achievement in learning and commitment to the mission of VCU.

Peter L. Wyeth
Presidential Medallion

Peter L. Wyeth served as vice president for development and alumni relations until his retirement in March 2011 from Virginia Commonwealth University.

He joined VCU in 1992 after serving as managing director of development for the Philadelphia Orchestra, vice president for development and external affairs at Hampden-Sydney College and director of university development at the University of Virginia.

When Mr. Wyeth first arrived on VCU's campus, a metamorphosis of the university was taking shape. VCU's total endowment stood at about $100 million, and the advancement operation was in its infancy. Mr. Wyeth helped facilitate the university's transformation during his tenure.

With just 15 development officers across VCU's campuses, Mr. Wyeth aligned fundraising efforts with university goals, increased staffing and started raising money. The Partners for Progress campaign was launched in 1992 and raised $199 million by its conclusion seven years later. The Campaign for VCU, begun in 2004 and ended in 2007, raised $410.3 million, exceeding its goal of $330.5 million.

Mr. Wyeth and his staff worked to develop strong relationships with business and community leaders who realized that an investment in VCU equaled an investment in the city and the commonwealth. The most prominent example of collaboration with these business and community volunteers resulted in the construction of new buildings for the schools of Business and Engineering, the crowning experience of Mr. Wyeth's tenure. Another highlight: the successful campaigns to renovate the Richard T. Robertson Alumni House and the MCV Alumni House and Paul A. Gross Conference Center.

In the community, Mr. Wyeth lent his experience to numerous boards including those at his alma mater, Trinity-Pawling School; Tandem Friends School; the Carpenter Center for the Performing Arts; and Children's Hospital. He also served as chairman of the executive committee of Children's Miracle Network, and as chairman of the membership committee of The Commonwealth Club.

During Mr. Wyeth's 19-year tenure at VCU, the advancement staff grew to about 150 development, alumni relations and operations professionals. He led fundraising campaigns totaling investments of more than $781 million to the university. Mr. Wyeth has left an indelible mark on VCU, and has taken fundraising — and the university — to new heights.

Academic Costume

The academic costume worn at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical habits, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, not just on special occasions but as their regular attire.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect the tonsured head. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early 16th century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Graduates from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown comes from the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have gowns of different colors.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

University Medallion

Serving as a perpetual symbol of Virginia Commonwealth University, the University Medallion is worn by the president at ceremonial occasions. The Egyptian Building, a historical and architectural landmark on the MCV Campus and the oldest medical education building in the south, is the centerpiece of the medallion. Egyptian hieroglyphics and images surrounding the building stand for medicine, the arts, the home, the community, writing and wisdom, measures and numbers, time, knowledge, and the sciences. These images represent VCU's mission of teaching, research, public service and patient care.

University Honors and Awards

Students Graduating with the Award of University Honors

VCU bestows the accolade of "graduation with University Honors" on graduating seniors who have attained distinction through impressive achievement in course work as well as other formal and informal educational experiences. To merit this distinction, students must complete a rigorous honors curriculum, excel in their academic work and submit an academic dossier that reflects their commitment to learning in the best university tradition. Their petition to graduate with University Honors must be approved by the Honors College Council. The medallions worn by these students at Commencement recognize this achievement; this distinction also is noted on the students' official transcripts and on their diplomas.

University Honors and Awards

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society founded in 1897. The Virginia Commonwealth University chapter was established in 1976. The primary objectives of the society are to promote the pursuit of excellence in all fields of higher education and to recognize outstanding achievement by students, faculty and others through election to membership and various awards for distinguished achievement.

Phi Kappa Phi typifies the honor society's ideal characteristic of American higher education, for it exists for the dual purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who attain high scholastic achievement and encouraging those students who are capable of doing so.

Phi Kappa Phi is unique because it recognizes scholarship in all academic disciplines and does not restrict membership to a specific field. Its interest and eligibility are extended across all subjects offered at the modern university and, by so doing, the society highlights the importance of appreciating and understanding more than a single limited specialty.

Virginia Commonwealth University

Virginia Commonwealth University is supported by Virginia to serve the Richmond area, the state and the nation through teaching, research, service and patient care.

VCU offers comprehensive undergraduate, master's, doctoral and professional programs and encompasses one of the largest academic health centers in the nation. With a record $255 million in sponsored research funding last fiscal year, VCU is designated as a research university with high research activity by the Carnegie Foundation. Its centers and institutes of excellence — involving faculty from multiple disciplines in public policy, biotechnology and health care discoveries — support the university's research mission.

More than 32,000 students pursue 216 degree and certificate programs through the university's 13 schools and one college. VCU has a full-time instructional faculty of more than 1,900 who are nationally and internationally recognized for excellence in the arts, business, education, engineering, the humanities, the life sciences, social work and all the health care professions. With more than 18,000 employees, VCU and the VCU Health System also have a significant impact on Central Virginia's economy.

VCU students and faculty can be found in locations around the state and around the world. VCU is the only state institution offering an accredited Master of Social Work program in Northern Virginia. The School of Medicine and the School of Pharmacy have collaborated with the Inova Health System in Northern Virginia as well to establish the VCU-Inova Campus for third- and fourth-year medical and pharmacy students. And, the university is in its 10th year of awarding bachelor's degrees in graphic, fashion and interior design at the School of the Arts in Qatar. In 1998, the university and the Qatar Foundation for Education, Science and Community Development entered into an agreement to establish the school at the request of the Qatar government.

VCU has been engaged in a long-range strategic planning effort that has resulted in such initiatives as a visionary master site building plan, the Virginia BioTechnology Research Park, the School of Engineering, the Carver-VCU Partnership for neighborhood development and VCU Life Sciences, a comprehensive undergraduate and graduate program incorporating all aspects of the university's academic and clinical missions in teaching, research and public education.

VCU's long-range planning also has sought to protect the future of the clinical health care mission, including providing top-quality patient care, indigent-care services and support for the teaching and research mission. The result is VCU Health System, which was established on July 1, 2000, and brings together MCV Hospitals, MCV Physicians, Virginia

Premier Health Plan and University Health Services.

VCU and VCU Health System have been honored with more than a decade of national recognition for its top-quality graduate, professional and medical-care programs by U.S. News & World Report; local, regional and national guides to the best hospitals and best doctors; and professional societies and journals.

Congratulations to all!
